

Ginger,

I wanted to send you a thank you note. I passed the PgMP test today. Your class, your booklet, and your encouragement helped me a lot! One more phase to go. Hopefully my dozen multi-raters will carry me over the finish line ☺

Thanks again for your help!

Hi Ginger!

Just wanted to let you know that I passed the PgMP exam this morning!

I received Proficient on Executing and Moderately Proficient on Defining and Planning. The others scores were Below Proficient. So I got very lucky!!!

I had a break in my schedule and decided I was ready and moved up the exam date to today.

Thank you for your help. Your material was right on and very helpful to prepare for the exam.

Here the news!!! I passed the Exam today!!!

I have to thank you a lot for all your support during this preparation time! I owe this result a lot to you!

Well...after all!

Thanks, Ginger, for all your help and encouragement. I wouldn't have even attempted this journey without your considerable encouragement. I definitely would not have made it through without your help.

Hi Ginger,

I took the exam yesterday andI PASSED!
It was not easy... but I have been studying every day for the past 4 months.

I thoroughly enjoyed your Boot Camp and your study guides in addition to your positive encouragement.

Thank you so much again for your support. I share this victory with you!

Thank you so much for your words of encouragement. I have found your book and class materials to be the most beneficial of all the books I have purchased (aside from the Standard, of course). The study tips have been immensely helpful, as are your practice tests. Your book and materials have been a Godsend to me.

PASSED!!! :) I couldn't have done it without you. You've been so very helpful. I can't thank you enough.

And Ginger, I wish I had known about your book before purchasing all the other worthless books I did. All I needed in the end, was your book (which is an outstanding study guide) and the Standard. And your practice exams were awesome! Just like the actual test, which was HARD, in my opinion. For whatever it's worth, I'll be happy to endorse your book to anyone and EVERYONE who will listen! Let me know what forums most impactful/helpful, besides LinkedIn, which I will do tomorrow.

Dr. Levin is a leading, world renown expert in program and project management. I had the good fortune of finding Ginger online as I prepared for my PgMP exam. Her advice and PgMP study guide proved invaluable, and are the reason I passed this (quite challenging) exam. Ginger is a gift to the industry. Her leadership in sharing her expertise and mentoring others to PgMP and PMP certification is testament to her extraordinary contribution to the program and project management disciplines." From Anna Cerito

I received confirmation from PMI late last night! I'm officially a PgMP.

Thanks again for your support. I couldn't have done it without you!

Hi Ginger,

Hope you're doing very well.

I appeared for the PgMP exam yesterday and passed it. Your guidance, my professional experience and PgMP exam preparation effort helped me in passing the exam.

I want to take this opportunity to THANK YOU for your suggestions and insights on getting ready for the PgMP exam.

Its important to mention the extraordinary experience during the 2 days seminar with Ginger Levin, she provided a very valuable information regarding the tricks, secrets and study guides to obtain the certification. The way in which she shared her PgMP experience helped me a lot in obtaining my certification and lastly her extensive experience and deep professionalism motivated me to continue pursuing the certification.

I'd like to recommend you to repeat (at least twice a year) that kind of seminar to motivate the Program Management practitioners to obtain the PgMP.

Ginger - I passed! Just had to let you know as you have been a guiding light! THANK YOU!
